

Regina's newest multi-unit developments

Regina is continually growing and expanding. Many of the newest developments are multi-unit condo projects. We explore a few of our city's exciting new communities.

Creeks Edge

North Ridge Development Corporation

Creeks Edge is a family community offering the ease of condo living in The Creeks, a flourishing neighbourhood in the southeast corner of Regina. These beautiful townhome condominiums provide a variety of highly functional floor plans, square footages, and options that allow owners to customize units based on their specific lifestyles. A nearby eight-acre park, a half-basketball court, and fenced-in backyards provide kids a place to play and adults green space to walk and enjoy the outdoors. These spacious units are Energy Star certified, come with durable and stylish Hardie Board siding, and also have an attached single car garage.

Evans Court

Evans Development Group Inc.

The classic Craftsman-style architecture and interiors of Evans Court have been carefully designed to complement the comfortable, relaxed feel of Wascana Park, creating the perfect blend of ambiance. Ramsgate Hall is a remarkable 36-unit apartment condominium, while the Berkshire Town Homes combine the architecture style of 21st century fusion with modern, energy efficient floor plans. Evans Court is bordered by the southern boundary of Wascana Centre and 23rd Avenue, located between Albert St. and Broad St. The development includes apartment-style living in Ramsgate Hall, townhomes and single family detached homes.

Canterbury Park

Fiorante Homes and Commercial Ltd.

Canterbury Park is a complete community across the street from Wascana Park in a beautiful, developed area, close to everything the city's centre has to offer. The development has a range of housing options, in Craftsman, Colonial, or Tudor style, encased in a dark brown brick to match the existing heritage buildings. Canterbury Estates consist of 26 bare land attached two-storey condominiums and bungalow attached condominiums. Canterbury Commons is a three-storey building with apartment-style condominiums and commercial space on the main level which will contain shops and restaurants. The high density development will offer future phases with the potential for bigger, multi-family units.